DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

Figure 11 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Mathieu (US Patent No. 6,685,817).

Referring to claim 1, Mathieu discloses facing a surface to be plated downwardly, and processing the surface by bringing it into contact with an electroless plating treatment liquid (figure 4, column 1 lines 13-25).

Referring to claim 3, Mathieu discloses forming a flow of the electroless plating treatment liquid in a certain direction on the surface to be plated (figure 4). Gas is generated during the plating process and would inherently be removed by the flowing fluid.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mathieu in view of Zhao et al. (US Patent No. 5,660,706).

Referring to claim 2, Mathieu teaches all of the features of claim 2 as discussed above except it does not teach holding the substrate on an incline. However, Zhao et al. teaches too apply an electric field while electrolessly depositing a metal as this electric field will act to initiate plating which replaces other activation techniques (column 2 lines 12-24, 42-51). Zhao teaches that when applying the electric field it is beneficial for the wafer to be tilted and rotated so that the negative charges are moving continuously along the surface and not collected into isolated pockets (column 8 lines 36-56). Accordingly, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Mathieu to use an electric field to initiate the autocatalytic deposition as suggested by Zhao as this process saves an added activation process step. In doing so one would tilt the substrate as discussed above which would then inherently have the property of removing gas from the substrate surface do to the buoyancy of the gas bubbles.
